

Hope Wire Building Described

Harold Bakley manager of Hope Wire Products told the Hope Lions at the Town and Country Monday that plans were nearing completion for their new building.

A recent vote made the erection of this building possible. The modern one-story building of approximately 28,000 square feet will be in the industrial area on the west side of the city.

Hope Wire Products manufactures innerspring cores for innerspring mattresses.

Mr. Bakley made an interesting and amusing speech on bedding and sleep habits. Among an assortment of odd facts it was disclosed that man can do without food longer than he can do without sleep. A group of men stayed awake four to eight days and physically they made out well, but mentally they fared much worse, suffering loss of memory, becoming illtempered and having hallucinations.

These tests proved that the brain needs rest through sleep more than does the body.

Lion Harry Cagle was program chairman for the day.

Guests of Lion Wimmel were his son Arthur, and grandsons Artie and Stevie Wimmel, of Camden, New Jersey.

Huge Fabric Water Tank Is Shown

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An inflatable water tank with a storage capacity of one million gallons is on display in Little Rock. The tank, which is classed as the world's largest, went on display Wednesday.

The tank inflates to a height of about 60 feet, length of 157 feet and width of 106 feet. It was erected overnight on the state Capitol grounds.

The neoprene-coated nylon tank, which was produced in the Magnolia plant of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., will be shipped to Montevideo, Calif., following the demonstration. It will be used for water supply storage in a housing development at Montevideo and will be placed in a huge underground tank.

Michael Duke, a Firestone executive, said there is no corrosion to worry about as there is in steel tanks and a new tank may be installed very easily. He said the life expectancy of the fabric tanks is about 20 years.

Basinette Is Given Johnsons

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sort of automatic basinette arrived at the White House for President and Mrs. Johnson's grandson, Patrick Lyndon Nugent.

It was a gift from a farmer in Arkansas who made the basinette, powered by a small motor to rock the baby.

Lyn already has a basinette that his mother used as a baby. But it is back at the Austin, Tex., home of his parents, Lucy and Patrick Nugent, who are due in Washington for a visit around Aug. 1 on their way to a Nassau vacation. The baby will stay at the White House.

White House spokesmen acknowledged the basinette had arrived in two big packages and been accepted. But they had no information as to whether the President's grandson will use it on his visit here. The basinette came from Eddie Garey of West Memphis, Ark., who wrote Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., that he wanted to donate a basinette to the President's grandson.

Vietnam. Half the men of the corporal's company were killed or wounded in three hours of savage fighting.

The infantry company probably had been trailed by the North Vietnamese for days. When the troops took a rest break before the final climb up a mountain, Charlie, as American troops have dubbed their foe, saw his chance, sent snipers up trees and positioned assault troops for attack. The sudden burst of fire caught the Americans sprawled on the ground. Many didn't move after the first volley. Courage and leadership got the Americans out of what could have been a disaster.

Ambushes can be in dozens of categories. Three classics involve the "U," the "Open U," and the "L."

In each case, an unwary adversary is allowed to walk into the kill zone where cross fire and terrain allow no place to hide, then is hit with everything available. Most of the damage in a well-executed ambush is done in the first five minutes.

The Americans use the ambush, too. One night south of the Da Nang air base a Marine unit on ambush patrol began hearing Vietnamese voices and suddenly sighted between 100 and 200 Viet Cong bent on attacking the base. The Marines ignored the axiom that discretion is sometimes the better part of valor and opened fire. The patrol was badly cut up, but the shots alerted the big base to the impending attack.

The Americans also have developed and refined a tactic called the artillery ambush. Long-range reconnaissance patrols filter through the jungle and mountains seeking out infiltrating units.

When they spot one, they radio for artillery, and from vantage points adjust the fire as the enemy tries to escape. The tactic sometimes works with devastating effect.

But the big ambushes always have been pulled by Charlies. The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese still as a rule are able to pick the time and place for the big battles.

Cong Mortars Hit Camp, Airfield

By GEORGE MCARTHUR SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners unleashed a heavy rocket and mortar attack on an American infantry camp and adjoining airfield north of Saigon today, killing 11 U.S. soldiers and wounding 43.

At the same time two nearby South Vietnamese installations came under similar attack. South Vietnamese headquarters did not announce military casualties but said three civilians were killed and 13 wounded in one of the barracks.

Ground action continued light, as it has been for almost a month, and the scarcity of major action was reflected by a slight decline in the weekly casualty figures. The U.S. Command said 164 Americans were killed last week and 1,442 wounded, compared with 175 killed and 1,443 wounded the week before. South Vietnamese losses were put at 183 dead and 523 wounded compared to 202 killed and 543 wounded the previous week, while 1,702 Communists were reported killed, a drop from 1,995 a week earlier.

On the political front, the South Vietnamese government announced it has asked the United Nations to send observers for the presidential and senatorial elections Sept. 3 to "testify to our determination to hold free and honest elections."

Mortar and rocket assault hit the headquarters of the 1st Infantry Division's 1st Brigade at the airfield at Phuoc Vin, 35 miles north of Saigon, about four hours before dawn.

U.S. Command said there was light damage to installations and equipment at the airfield — a relatively small field used by spotter planes, helicopters and troop transporters.

The Red gunners used mostly light mortars but some of the rounds were from Russian-made 122mm rockets, one of the heaviest weapons in the Viet Cong arsenal.

The shells rained on the headquarters and the field for 25 minutes, sending sleeping GI's scurrying for sandbagged bunkers and reaction patrols fanning about the barbed-wire camp perimeters.

Flareships lit the area and American guns under radar control opened up on Communist firing positions. They were located later in the day by ground patrols, abandoned and battered by shellfire but with no Viet Cong bodies left behind.

Heavy thunderstorms over the Hanoi-Haiphong area limited air attacks on North Vietnam Wednesday to supply lines between the industrial area and the southern border.

Military headquarters reported that despite the heavy weather 135 missions — an average day — were flown against the North with extensive damage to trucks, railroad rolling stock, barges and supply sites.

U.S. B52 bombers, sweeping five miles up in the sky along the Laotian and Cambodian frontiers, poured tons of bombs on Communist camp and infiltration areas in two raids early today.

Medium-size bombs in saturation patterns blasted an enemy camp area in the central highlands near Pleiku and another jungle gathering point near the hard-hit A Shau valley farther north.

6 Dairy Groups to Be Merged

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Six dairy groups in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas are merging into an organization to be called Milk Producers, Inc.

MPI will be headquartered in Dallas and will distribute the bulk of the milk for the four states.

Officials said Wednesday final approval of the merger would come before Sept. 1. Each division will elect from its board one man for every 300 members to serve on the MPI board.

Cooperatives involved in the merger are the North Texas Producers Association, headquartered at Arlington; South Texas Producers Association, Houston; Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association, Little Rock; Central Oklahoma Milk Producers Association, Oklahoma City, and Southwest Milk Producers Association, Wichita, Kan.

Approval by the North Texas group was disclosed Wednesday. The Central Arkansas dairymen voted for the merger July 15 at their state meeting in Conway, Ark.

before a U.S. commissioner, the Justice Department dropped the federal warrant. Brown stayed inside the federal building for a time, claiming immunity from Virginia arrest. But then he was hauled outside by police and arrested on a Virginia warrant charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution in Maryland.

When FBI agents first led Brown into the federal building, he told newsmen "We'll burn the country down, honkies and all." He uses "honkies" to refer to white people.

William M. Kunstler, Brown's white attorney, maintained the SNCC leader had "never been a fugitive from anybody," but had been in Washington. He said Brown was on his way to New York to surrender to the FBI when he was arrested.

A hearing on the state fugitive charge is scheduled here Aug. 22.

Judge Franklin P. Backus set bail at $10,000. It was understood SNCC leaders had difficulty obtaining a bondsman to put up the bail.

Earlier in Baltimore, Md., Gov. Spiro T. Agnew said he had listened to a tape recording of Brown's talk in Cambridge and found it "entirely reprehensible and criminal." He said the SNCC leader "was guilty of breaking the law" and should be punished.

Agnew also said he has turned over to federal authorities information he said "indicates that the Newark riots and the Detroit riots had a similarity of planning and execution."

While refusing to disclose the sources of the information, Agnew cited as similarities in the riots which wracked the New Jersey and Michigan cities the effective use of snipers, interception of police messages and jamming of police broadcasts.

Meanwhile a State Department official said "consideration will be given" to revoking the passport of Brown's predecessor as SNCC leader, Stokely Carmichael.

Carmichael, who looked on Wednesday night in Havana as Prime Minister Fidel Castro called the riots the "tragedy of imperialism," violated the government's ban on travel to the Communist-run Caribbean island.

Hollis Dillard beneath an arch of greenery with a background of seven-branched candelabras holding white gladiolus and stocks.

Before the ceremony candles were lighted by Miss Carrie Tye, niece of the bride, and Joey Tye, brother of the bride. Wendel McCorkle played a program of nuptial music and accompanied Miss Linda Reece who sang "More" and "Savior, Like a Shepherd Lead Us."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white peau de sole. It was fashioned with a round neckline, fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves. The skirt swept into a long chapel train which was held from the floor by Miss Karen Spencer. Her veil illusion fell to waist length from a crown of peau de sole roses accented with pearls. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. The bride carried a satin covered Bible topped with white carnations and streamers tied with love knots, centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Billy Bob Spencer served her sister as Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bob Tye, Mrs. Don Tye, Miss Linda James, Miss Mary Ann Masseneil and Miss Pat Allen. They were attired in identical floor length dresses of blue peau de sole designed with round necklines and fitted bodices. They wore matching crowns of roses with veils for their headpieces. Red Sox Outguess California

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Mike Andrews had an idea and also a solution in case it didn't work. Happily it worked. There were men on first and third with two out in the Boston sixth inning Wednesday night with Andrews at the plate. He bunted.

By the time surprised California third baseman Woody Held fielded the ball Andrews was on first and Reggie Smith was home with the third run of the inning to tie the game 4-4.

The Red Sox went on to score three more times in the inning for a 7-4 lead en route to a 9-5 victory.

"It was my own idea," Andrews said, "if I would have popped it up, I would have just kept running."

While Andrews was outsmarting the Angels, Washington was beating Kansas City 6-3 and New York split with Minnesota, winning the first game 6-1 and losing the nightcap 3-2 in 18 innings.

The Cleveland at Chicago game was rained out. Detroit and Baltimore were not scheduled.

In the National League, New York trounced San Francisco 11-5, Houston nipped Philadelphia 3-2, St. Louis topped Chicago 4-2, Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 4-2 and Cincinnati walked Atlanta 7-1. The second Cincinnati-Atlanta game was rained out.

Asked if he was thinking about bunting with Andrews up, Boston Manager Dick Williams replied:

"No. He caught me just like he caught Woody Held."

The Red Sox, who stayed ahead of the Angels in second place with the victory which snapped California's seven-game winning streak, got their first run in the seventh on Tony Conigliaro's double and George Scott's triple.

Marcelino Lopez then relieved George Brunet and was greeted by Rico Petrocelli's sacrifice fly. Smith singled and pinch hitter Norm Siebern got aboard on an error before pinch hitter Dalton Jones flied out, setting up Andrews' bunt.

Joe Foy followed the bunt with an infield hit, loading the bases, and Carl Yastrzemski doubled in three runs.

Boston, which scored one run in the fourth, added insurance tallies in the eighth on consecutive straight game for Washington.

Cards Take Cub Series, Lead by 2

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Veale, weary from having struggled through a complete game just five days ago, discovered Wednesday night that he just couldn't turn the trick twice in succession.

With Juan Pizarro waiting in the wings, it couldn't have mattered less.

Veale, still relishing his first complete game in 16 starts on July 21, held Los Angeles at bay for 7 1-3 innings in the Pirates' 4-2 victory Wednesday. But then the familiar signs of non-completion set in and in came Pizarro to protect the big left-hander's 12th victory against four defeats.

Pizarro should go into the protection business. He came in with one man on and two balls on Ron Fairly. After completing the walk, he got down to business. Al Ferrara and Jim LeFebvre went down swinging, ending that particular threat, mild as it was.

And in the ninth? First there was Bob Bailey. He took a third strike. Then there was Wes Parker. He swung at a wild one. And last there was Jeff Torborg a swinger, but not a hitter.

In other National League action, St. Louis beat Chicago 4-2, Cincinnati bounced Atlanta 7-1 and rained washed out the second game of a scheduled doubleheader, Houston edged Philadelphia 3-2 and New York pounded San Francisco 11-5.

In the American League, Boston beat California 9-6, Washington took Kansas City 6-3, and New York split with Minnesota, winning the first game 6-1 and losing the nightcap 3-2 in 18 innings. Cleveland and Chicago were rained out.

Willie Stargell homered for the Pirates in the fourth inning, but the Dodgers came back to tie the score 2-2. Manny Mota singled in the run that broke the tie in the sixth and Maury Wills walked, stole second, went to third on an error and scored on a forceout for the final run.

The Cardinals extended their league lead to two games by downing the Cubs. Julian Javier drove in three runs, two with a homer, and Lou Brock stole two bases and scored twice. Nelson Briles, 5-4, was the winner, but needed ninth inning help from Jack Lamabe and Joe Hoerner.

Deron Johnson cracked a two-run homer, sparking the Reds' victory after Phil Niekro had held Cincinnati to one bunt single through the first six innings. Mel Queen, 10-5, was the winner.

Joe Morgan's single drove in the second run in a ninth inning rally that sent the Astros past the Phils. Jackie Brandt's single earlier had tied the game after singles by Dave Adlesh and Bob Aspromonte.

Cleon Jones, who has been having a terrible time hitting the ball all year, broke loose for a homer and five runs batted in against the Giants and Bud Harrelson had four hits and two RBIs for the Mets.

Girl Swim Champ Is Ambitious

WINNIPEG (AP) — Sue Gossick, the United States' first gold medalist in the 1967 Pan-Am games, has set her hazel eyes on an unprecedented Olympic goal.

"I want to concentrate on winning the springboard diving medal at Mexico City and then I want to take up skiing on a serious scale," the 5-1/2, 105-pound queen of the boards said today.

"I'd love to compete in the Winter Olympics."

Miss Gossick, a graduate of Valley Junior College in Los Angeles, beat out teammate Micki King for the springboard crown at the Pan-Am pool Tuesday.

"I've only been skiing three years but I think it is a fantastic sport," the Tarzana, Calif., girl said. "I plan to spend all my Christmas holidays on the slopes at Vail (Colorado) or Squaw Valley (California)."

"Some day — maybe 1972 — I'll be on the United States' Alpine team."

No one has ever won a gold medal in both the Summer and Winter Games.

Miss Gossick has come along very fast since finishing fourth in the springboard event of the Tokyo Games in 1964. She won the National AAU springboard crown in 1966 and repeated this year.

She said she's been diving since she was nine.

U.S. Wins 11 of 15 Medals in Pan Am

By JERRY LISKA
WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) — The United States entered the fourth day of Pan-American Games action today with 11 of 15 possible gold medals bundled up and its powerful track and field team yet to explode onto the scene.

The talented U.S. swimming team Wednesday night accounted for five gold medals in an opening six-event program which produced two world records — by a couple of phenomenal kids.

Mark Spitz, 17-year-old wonder from Santa Clara, Calif., won the 200-meter butterfly in 2:06.4, shattering the world mark of 2:06.6 set by Australia's Kevin Berry in the 1964 Olympics.

Canada's 16-year-old Elaine Tanner snapped a string of five straight U.S. triumphs with a superb women's 200-meter backstroke effort of 2:24.44, smashing the world record of 2:26.4 set by South Africa's Karen Muir in 1966.

Miss Tanner also may dent U.S. aquatic superiority in tonight's five-event program which includes the women's 100-meter backstroke.

Uncle Sam's wrestlers could come close to sweeping all eight gold medals in tonight's closing competition, with Oklahoma City's Wayne Baughman already owning the 191-pound crown.

The Yank track team which begins flexing its muscles in Saturday's opening finals including the 10,000-meter run, javelin and shot put is tabbed to take at least 18 gold medals on the men's 24-event program.

The U.S. basketball team Wednesday continued to make a walkaway of its quest for fifth straight Pan-Am title by whomping Peru 93-37 with five players hitting double figures.

The U.S. cagers now stand 2-0 after opening Tuesday with a 131-43 clouting of Colombia.

In baseball, the U.S. squad won its second straight game 8-3 over Puerto Rico and stand 2-1. The only Yank defeat came in a 4-3 opening loss to defending champion Cuba which Wednesday downed Mexico 4-1 to stand 2-0.

Squeeze Bunt Perfected by Sox Recruit

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
BOSTON (AP) — Mike Andrews doesn't get the acclaim accorded to his more publicized teammates, but when it comes to the little things that keep a team in the pennant race he doesn't take a back seat to anyone.

The rookie second baseman's latest contribution was a perfect squeeze bunt which sent the tying run across and kept alive a six-run seventh inning rally as the Boston Red Sox snapped the California Angels' seven-game winning streak with a 9-6 victory Wednesday night.

"It was my own idea," Andrews said, "I started thinking about it as soon as the runner got to third. It was the first time I've squeezed home a run in the majors, but I've done it before in the minors."

The Red Sox, trailing 4-1 going into the seventh, had scored two runs and had men on first and third with two out when Andrews pulled off his squeeze. Joe Foy followed with an infield hit, and Carl Yastrzemski lashed a bases-loaded double to climax the rally.

Somebody in the noisy Boston dressing room suggested that if Andrews had popped up his bunt instead of laying it down beautifully to handcut third baseman Woodie Held he might not be quite such a hero.

"If I'd popped it up I'd have just kept running," he said.

Manager Dick Williams agreed that it was Andrews' idea "and a hell of an idea."

Even if it hadn't worked, the manager said, "it would have been a good shot."

But Andrews' real value to the Red Sox is in his day-in, day-out handling of second base — a position which has been a problem most of the time since the 1940s when Bobby Doerr played the position for Boston.

Showdown Due on Grid Holdouts

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The case of the five holdouts of the Cleveland Browns, which has stirred the interest of most everyone in pro football, may switch from an all-for-one and one-for-all to a one-for-me situation Friday.

The case pits Art Modell, owner of the Browns, against John Wooten, a guard from Colorado, Leroy Kelly, a running back from Morgan State, John Brown, a tackle from Syracuse, Mike Howell, a defensive back from Grambling and Sid Williams, a linebacker from Southern University.

Their attorney is scheduled to meet Friday with counsel for Modell in a second attempt to reach a settlement. The five were scheduled to report to training camp last Saturday, but didn't show. They face $100-a-day fines until they report.

The key issue appears to be the demand of the five that all of them must be traded if one is. Modell has said he would not agree to such a stipulation of vital concern to every front office.

Meantime, halfback Donny Anderson, a bonus baby from Texas Tech, worked out with the champion Green Bay Packers for the first time since being released from Army reserve training. He is expected to challenge Elijah Pitts for the halfback post vacated by the departure of Paul Hornung.

Jim Nance, the Most Valuable Player in the AFL last year, signed his contract with the Boston Patriots for what Mike Holovak coach and general manager, said was a substantial increase.

The former Syracuse fullback, who set an AFL rushing record with the Pats last year of 1,458 yards, declared, "I can now concentrate on just playing football."

Al Reynolds, guard on the AFL champion Kansas City Chiefs, suffered a ruptured blood vessel in his left arm during practice.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Emphysema Victims Can Have Limited Exercise

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—How does emphysema affect one? Is it serious? What causes it? Is there any cure for it?

A—Emphysema develops very gradually after a series of chest colds, each one a little harder to shake off than the last. Along with the chronic cough there is shortness of breath. The disease is serious in that it is slowly progressive and unless skillfully treated will make the victim a respiratory invalid.

It is caused by repeated attacks of acute bronchitis which becomes chronic and is aggravated by heavy smoking and air pollution. Although there is no known cure your doctor can help make you more comfortable and check the progress of the disease.

Q—What is considered a fever? For more than five months I have been very tired, have had back pain and my temperature varies from 97.2 to 100.

A—A temperature that is 99.6 to 100 is a low fever and its significance would depend on many other factors. You should have a thorough examination to determine the cause of your low fever and your other symptoms.

Q—Can an anal fissure be cured without an operation? Do fissures become cancerous? Is it the same as a fistula?

A—An acute fissure or crack in the skin in the anal region can often be cured by the use of soothing suppositories and ointments and by gentle cleansing of the area after each bowel movement. An operation is recommended if piles are also present or if the condition has persisted for more than a month.

A fissure does not predispose to the development of cancer. An anal fistula is not a simple crack but a deep tubular pocket or tunnel extending from the rectum to the skin in the anal region. This is a more difficult lesion to cure.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Largest Porcupine

The African crested porcupine, which is over three feet long, is the world's largest living porcupine. When annoyed, it rattles the quills on its tail to warn of a backward charge that may mean death.

Waldemar von Zedtwitz of New York has been one of the best bridge players in the world for 40 years. You can't be a great bridge player and be superstitious but Waldy has an almost superstitious feeling about the diamond suit. If you pin him down, he will admit that he tends to bid doubtful diamond slams because he is lucky with them.

Of course, Waldy does a lot about making his own luck. He sat South and while the final contract of six diamonds was optimistic in deed, we can't find that he overbid at all. His partner did hold ace-king-ace but his two-club response showed a good hand and we feel that North's rebid to three diamonds was a decidedly poor choice. With 4-3-3-3 distribution he should merely have bid two no-trump over two hearts.

Waldy looked over dummy carefully and, with Waldy, that means very carefully. He saw that he needed a lot of luck to make his contract but that it would be a cinch if East held the king at the top of a three-card heart suit. Then he looked about for other winning possibilities and finally came up with a successful play.

He won the first trick with the king of spades and led out his five of hearts. East overtook his partner's seven with the nine and led the suit right back in an effort to make Waldy think that West held the king but Waldy had planned to finesse in any event and did finesse.

Then Waldy played two rounds of trumps and the ace of hearts. West could do nothing except discard. Waldy ruffed his last heart. He cashed dummy's ace of spades, ruffed a spade, drew the last trump and claimed the rest of the tricks.

Lucky, but try to make the hand any other way!

Q—The bidding has been:

such as mountain climbing be helpful or harmful to a person with emphysema?

A—It would be harmful because it would cause him to stretch air sacs in his lungs that have become inelastic. Persons with emphysema should limit their exercise to walking, swimming and bicycling always stopping short of bringing on a spell of coughing or gasping.

Q—I am a retired trombonist. Will playing my trombone cause me to develop emphysema?

A—Although it was once thought that playing a wind instrument predisposed one to emphysema we now know that this is not so. Playing your trombone may even help you to keep from getting it.

"AN UNLICENSED BAKERY" is what the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture called the kitchen stove of Mrs. William Hershberger, 26, wife of an Amish farmer at New Glarus, Wis. But she kept right on baking for sale to hundreds of tourists who want a close look at these "plain folk" in their southern Wisconsin settlement. "If I believed it were a sin I would quit," she said.

Army Rifle Probe May Be Muzzled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House subcommittee that went to South Vietnam to check complaints about the M16 rifle says the military may have muzzled soldiers the panel queried.

Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., read portions of several letters that charged soldiers were kept from giving the House probes true information about the controversial rifle.

"If this information is accurate, and there is some basis for belief in the information," Ichord said as the subcommittee reopened hearings Tuesday, "it stands as a shocking example of muzzling by our military leaders on a subject that can mean life or death to our combat soldiers."

Ichord said his panel's June visit to Vietnam uncovered few grips about the effectiveness of the M16.

But on returning, he said, members began to get letters from servicemen and relatives of men serving in Vietnam saying field commanders threatened punishment if the congressmen were told of problems with the weapon.

The Pentagon said later that both the Army and Marine Corps are investigating the allegations.

B. & P. W. Leader Is Fair-Minded

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Mabel McLanahan is a trim, green-eyed, brown-haired businesswoman from Appleton, Wis., who believes that women have a long way to go to reach legal equality with men.

At the same time, she thinks men deserve a better break in divorce and alimony settlements.

That shows right there what a fair-minded woman is taking over the helm of the 178,000-member National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., at its annual convention this week.

Her organization "is working strongly for an equal-rights amendment to get equality for women," she says. "I don't think there can be a broad enough interpretation under the 14th Amendment."

"We women have to take a positive approach to show that we are capable of employment and of managing our own affairs."

Mrs. McLanahan has been managing her own affairs for a good long time. A divorcee for 20 years, she brought up a son, who's now 29 and an airline pilot. He has been married six years and has yet to make her a grandmother, she says impatiently.

She is a leader in Appleton's business community. She works as secretary and business manager of Crane Engineering Sales, Inc., which means she handles accounting, cost analysis, tax consulting, purchasing, personnel development, customer relations and advertising for various companies and businesses. Before that she owned and managed a business service and a public stenography agency.

Her community service includes politics, and the hospital auxiliary, presiding at the taxpayers' association meetings, serving on her state advisory council to the Small Business Administration and spearheading the establishment of the Governor's Commission on the Status of Women in Wisconsin. She is an unpretentiously devout Lutheran.

Mrs. McLanahan thinks the general public misunderstands what women want.

"Our interest is in the same professional opportunities and legal rights as men. But I still like having doors opened for me, when it's a social occasion. 'But if it's in a business situation, I don't want them to open the door. I don't want them to watch their language. I want to be considered a member of the group. At the meeting, maybe, the men are a little wary of me, but they get over it. A woman sets the tone.'"

U.S. Wealth Inflationary in Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — "The big spenders from the West" are making a serious effort not to kill South Vietnam with kindness.

The 466,000 U.S. troops and the other Americans here are being pushed, prodded and even ordered to spend as few South Vietnamese piasters as possible, to avoid a catastrophic inflation that could do almost as much harm to the country as the war.

Even with the plaster-control program instituted by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Americans, officially and individually, spent more than seven billion piasters more in the first half of 1967 than the entire nonmilitary budget of the South Vietnamese government for the same period.

The U.S. figures are just for piasters that Americans spend inside South Vietnam. They do not include the multibillion-dollar cost of the war, most of which is spent outside Vietnam and does not affect its economy.

The American piaster spending ranges from the 2,000 that a GI pays for "Saigon tea" in a bar to the flood of piasters, a total amounting to about $20 million, that the U.S. government pays for billets in downtown Saigon. It includes the 500 piasters an American sergeant pays for an ao dai, a Vietnamese dress, to send to his girl friend in Chicago, as well as the 7.7 billion piasters that the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) spends as a small part of its aid program here.

A dollar can be exchanged for 117 piasters at the official rate. The giant U.S. construction program that accompanied the major increase in troops during the past year also poured great amounts of piasters into the economy with the hiring of tens of thousands of Vietnamese workers.

The glut of new piasters in the economy could have only one effect. Prices have jumped about 160 per cent since January, 1965. This year alone they are expected to rise 40 per cent.

Wages and total family income also have risen, and there is almost no unemployment, but inflation has braked the increase in real income.

What happens when the United States leaves? Nobody has the answer.

Giant sequoias, which sprout from tiny seeds resembling rolled oats, are the earth's largest living things.

HELEN HELP US!

HE NEEDS TO KNOW

Dear Helen: Is 13 too young to be told the facts of life? I am a boy who has asked my parents many times to tell me, but my Dad thinks I already know and my Mother thinks my Dad should do it. In other words, they pass the buck. It's always, "Later." —NEEDS TO KNOW

Dear Needs: Your parents need help in answering your questions. An excellent book for all of you to read is, "What Teenagers Want To Know," by Levinsohn and Kelly and published by Budlong Press. It can be ordered only through your doctor, and the cost for the 89-page paperback is $1.50. —H.

Dear Helen: I am 20 years old, though not working because I have epilepsy. I go out with my older brother, a fellow who works with him, and his brother who is the same age as I. We seem to enjoy doing things together.

We bought a lot of fishing equipment and each owns a fourth of it.

The other day I had an attack while sitting on the river bank and fell in, almost drowning. Right then I said I wasn't going out with them any more as they

Dear R: You're saying this because you are sorry for yourself —and self-pity is the one emotion handicapped persons can't indulge. Your brother and friends include you in the foursome because they want you. Methodists to Probe LRU Center

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A special four-member committee is conducting an investigation of the Wesley Foundation student center on the Little Rock University campus.

The committee, appointed by the foundation's Board of Directors, is headed by the Rev. James B. Argue of Pulaski Heights Methodist Church.

Other members are the Rev. Elmo Thomason of Winfield Methodist Church and two laymen—Alvin J. Reap of St. Paul Methodist Church and Lonnie Dallas of St. Luke Methodist Church.

Argue said the investigation was called as a result of an article which appeared in The Pine Bluff Commercial on May 5, headlined "New Campus Religion."

The article depicts the Wesley Foundation at LRU as a place of open discussion, coffeehouse atmosphere, "new-left" political persuasion, and psychedelic art.

Religious activities there were characterized as low-key, non-denominational, but adhering to basic Christian tenets. "If religious trappings are absent from the Wesley foundation atmosphere," the article said, "religious feeling is not. Some habits of The Exit (Coffeehouse) practice an elemental sort of religion, rejecting dogma and concentrating on the essential Christian lessons."

Argue said yesterday that his investigating committee had met three times, but that no conclusions had been reached.

"I'm trying to keep an open mind," he said. "... We realize that sometimes rather unconventional approaches must be taken to meet the needs of today's students. Yet there is a question whether something is unconventional, or whether it is irresponsible."

A Letter From Pine Bluff

Editor The Star: I read with interest your editorial of July 11 about model housing. I am glad you had the courage to let us old people know how our Social Security is being thrown away.

My husband is 79 and I am 77. We are both too old to find outside work, but we do all our own home work and my husband makes a garden every year. We own our own home and it is hard for us to get by.

My husband paid Social Security for 25 years and I know many old people who get less than we do. I can't understand how they can live on such a small income with this run-away graft. I have written Mr. Mills and Mr. Pryor (Congressmen) several letters about Social Security but their letters are very brief and never informative. Their only excuse is they don't know where to get the money.

Mr. Mills is a good friend of my oldest daughter and her husband. In one of his letters he told me my daughter was a lovely lady and would be ashamed of me if she knew how I lost my temper. I told him I had four lovely daughters but they weren't doing my thinking, and I hadn't lost my temper — I still have it.

Every one I know is keeping your editorial and I say it is very good. We need more men like you in Washington — not puppets. It is strange to me why everyone in Washington is afraid to expose things.

Assembly Was Merely Independent

— Cockrill

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Speaker of the House Sterling Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock said Wednesday the 1967 Legislature was the "most independent legislature in modern times" and that this independence was often mistaken "for harassment of the new Republican governor."

Cockrill made the comments in an address to a Little Rock civic club.

Cockrill said many of the legislative disagreements with the governor were a product of the "new independence" and would have existed "even if Justice Jim Johnson had been elected governor."

"Legislative independence, coupled with good judgement and responsibility, is a healthy thing and should be continued," Cockrill said.

Cockrill said many things combined have helped the state's attitude change from one of "defense" to one of firm "aggressiveness."

New Transmission Line for Howard

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Southern Electric Power Co., asked the Public Service Commission Wednesday for permission to build a transmission line in Howard County and another in Washington and Benton counties.

The firm is headquartered in Texarkana. The projects would cost $518,000.

Woman Killed in Auto Wreck

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Bobby Jim Morris, 39, of Walnut Springs (Sevier County) was killed Wednesday in a one-car accident about five miles southeast of here.

Authorities said a calf reportedly started across the road in front of Mrs. Morris' car and that when she applied the brakes the car went out of control.

County Limited on Airport Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office ruled Wednesday that Sevier County could operate a county airport but could not levy a one-mill tax to finance the airport.

Ambush Art Is Perfected in Vietnam

By JOHN T. WHEELER
SAIGON (AP) — Millenniums ago a cave man crouched behind a boulder, stone ax in hand, and waited for his unwary enemy to trudge up the trail. The enemy arrived, the ax swished through the air, and the ambush was born.

Today in Vietnam the ambush has been raised to its highest level of cunning and effectiveness by the Communists, who otherwise might have been defeated long ago by U.S. fire power in conventional battle.

It is the enemy's most successful tactic by far and has given the Communists their most clear-cut victories over American and other allied troops.

Typical of these operations was a recent attack on a company of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division in the central highlands.

"We were just sitting on the trail, taking a break, you know, and then old Charlie opens up with those damned AK7 assault rifles, and, whammo, we were really in the hurt locker (trouble)," a corporal recalled.

"In a way we were lucky. The Old Man (the company commander) wouldn't let us bunch up, even though we figured we were almost home free."

Rap Brown, Accused Chief of Alexandria Riot, Freed on Bond

By TOM SEPPY
ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — H. Rap Brown, Negro leader of the militant Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, is free on $10,000 bail after spending about nine hours in the jail of this Washington suburb.

An uproarious sequence wound up with him booked under Virginia law as a fugitive from Maryland warrant charging he incited a riot Monday night in Cambridge, Md.

Brown received lusty cheers when he walked out of the jail early today and faced a crowd of some 300 — mostly youthful Negroes who live in the area.

With his hand raised in defiant elation, Brown, 23, attempted to speak to the crowd but was hustled down the steps of the building by eight SNCC members to a waiting car.

He again tried to speak but was pulled into the vehicle and his words were drowned out by cheers of the youngsters screaming "Black Power."

Brown's Black Power speech in Cambridge Monday preceded a disturbance which ended with the burning of about a dozen buildings including a school and a church in the heart of the city's Negro area.

Another Maryland warrant charged Brown with "counseling and procuring" the burning of the school.

After making its way with difficulty through the Alexandria crowd, Brown's car and four others sped away their destination unknown. Police escorted them to the city line.

Brown was arrested Wednesday morning by FBI agents at National Airport near here on a federal fugitive warrant.

Turkey Hit by a New Earthquake

ANKARA (AP) — Another violent earthquake struck Turkey Wednesday night in an area where 23,000 persons were killed in 1939 in one of history's most disastrous quakes. The government radio said that up to early afternoon today the known death toll had reached 86, with many villages unheard from.

The quake occurred in eastern Turkey, south of the city of Erzurum, Erzincan was the site of the disastrous quake of Dec. 27, 1939.

The quake Wednesday night was Turkey's second such disaster in six days. On Saturday in western Turkey nearly 100 persons were killed at Adapazari.

The Pulmur region was reported hardest hit by the latest quake, with only 7 out of the 70 villages able to communicate with the provincial authorities.

Authorities feared the death toll would go higher.

DeGaulle's Canada Flop Irks French

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadian officials waited with some apprehension today for repercussions from the stormy visit of President Charles de Gaulle. But many were confident the episode would eventually blow over without serious consequences.

Concern was expressed that relations between France and Canada might be damaged by Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's rebuke to the French president for his public support of French Canadian separatism and De Gaulle's retaliatory flight home Wednesday from Montreal, skipping a visit to Ottawa and a meeting with Pearson.

There was also anxiety that De Gaulle's sounding of the French-Canadian separatist cry "Long live free Quebec" might touch off new squalls in relations between the federal government and that restless province.

Pearson, who had termed De Gaulle's espousal of separatism "unacceptable" to the Canadians and their government, issued a terse statement expressing regret over the French leader's hasty exit.

"Gen. de Gaulle's decision to cut short his visit is understandable under the circumstances," Pearson said, "but those circumstances, which are not of the government's making, are Peace Returns to Detroit, But Racists Raid N.Y. 5th Ave.

Race Raiders Hit New York Fifth Avenue

NEW YORK (AP) — Bands of young Negroes surged into Manhattan early today following a free rock 'n' roll concert in Central Park, pummeling strollers and looting two store windows along fashionable Fifth Avenue.

Quick-moving police, in radio cars with sirens silent and roof lights turned off, raced from incident to incident, arresting a total of 21. It was the first such looting in the area in recent history.

Six more persons were arrested in scattered incidents of window smashing and looting in the Bronx, and new trouble flared in sections of Westchester County, bordering the city to the north.

But Spanish Harlem, the upper East Side area hit by three nights of violence earlier in the week, remained calm.

The homeward-bound theatre crowd and other strollers gawked in surprise as the bands of young Negroes, totalling about 100, raced through the smart streets of midtown.

Police responded with 40 patrol cars and later sent double patrols into the 17-block area of Fifth Avenue extending south of Rockefeller Center and northward to Tiffany's at 57th Street.

A men's shop owner said $15,000 worth of merchandise had been stolen.

A foot patrolman, hand on holster, commented, "This is the wrong area to fool around with. A lot of money is wrapped up here."

Another Negro mob at Columbus Circle reportedly attacked a young married couple, disrobed the woman and took $55 from her husband.

The teen-agers' spree began after they surged out of a free rock 'n' roll concert in Central Park featuring Smokey Robinson and the Miracles. The show was part of a series designed to keep city youth "cool" during the summer.

A police sergeant said the group — "100 to 150 of them" — headed down Broadway, tried unsuccessfully to turn over a taxi, then moved east at 46th Street to Fifth Avenue, startling strollers and show-goers.

Tearing away protective grilles, they smashed the windows of Blye's men's shop with garbage cans and stripped racks and displays clean of jackets, and cashmere and alpaca sweaters. The mob also dragged mannequins out of a Wallach's men's store window across the street and broke windows in the office of the American Oil Company.

29,000 Farm Jobs Lost in Last 4 Years

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Farm employment in Arkansas declined more than 29,000 between 1962 and 1966 according to a report Wednesday by the state Employment Security Division.

The report said wage and hour regulations which went into effect this year have not caused as much farm unemployment in Eastern Arkansas as was feared. The ESD said the report showed that farm employment was declining before the regulations came into the picture.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had been told that about 1,000 farm workers in Eastern Arkansas were thrown out of work due to the minimum wage. He ordered a survey of the situation.

There is a total of 5,250 unemployed workers in Eastern Arkansas according to the latest ESD figures.

400 Homes, 4,000 Businesses Lost

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With a full accounting still months away, the toll on homes and businesses in the current, widespread racial violence already stands at more than 400 homes and nearly 4,000 businesses destroyed or damaged.

Most of the devastation has come in Detroit, still under siege, where officials could only guess that "from 300 to 3,000" persons were left homeless.

The officials there said Wednesday that at least 1,500 businesses were looted and that there were more than 1,300 fires.

Many of the homeless lived in tenements above stores that were burned out.

There were some 400 houses damaged in Newark, N.J., alone in rioting July 21. Of 783 stores hit 16 were recorded as destroyed and 86 heavily damaged.

Many communities were unable to supply up to date figures as the wave of violence continued across the nation late Wednesday and early today.

Cincinnati officials estimated a total $250,000 damage in the city's latest outbreak of Negro rioting.

Dayton, Ohio, reported damage estimated at $100,000 without a breakdown on buildings affected.

Officials in Boston and Rochester, N.Y., said they had no final damage statistics.

Detroit Deaths Rival Vietnam's

DETROIT (AP) — Casualties in four days of violence in Detroit as compared with American losses in the most recent full week of the war in Vietnam.

Detroit deaths 36, and more than 1,000 injured, Vietnam deaths 164, wounded 1,442, according to the U.S. Command in Saigon.

DETROIT — The costliest riot in the nation's history abated with 38 persons counted dead and damage assessed at $500 million.

NEW YORK — Negro teen-agers ran wild over a stretch of Fifth Avenue breaking shop windows and looting. Spanish Harlem was quiet.

CAMBRIDGE, Md. — National Guardsmen moved into the Eastern shore city, chasing crowds from the streets with "riot" gas.

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Snipers and looters fought with police in a four-hour outbreak.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — National Guardsmen entered the home city of Notre Dame University to put down a disturbance. A general curfew was imposed.

CHICAGO — Firebombing, window breaking and looting broke out in the predominantly Negro South and West sides.

There were also reports of scattered outbreaks in Toledo and Cincinnati, Ohio, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, and two New York City suburbs in Westchester county — Mount Vernon and New Rochelle.

Reckoned in the thousands were those burned from their homes and jobs in pillaging and arson that reached a peak Monday. The riot broke out Sunday with a routine police raid on a Negro after-hours nightspot.

Many Detroit residents reportedly fled across the Detroit River to take haven in Canada. The morgue was so jammed that its normal procedures were abandoned temporarily.

Food was scarce in the 92-block West Side area, where the riot began along 12th Street, a main artery. This area is one of the few in Detroit that are inhabited almost exclusively by Negroes, who make up 30 per cent of the population.

State Takes Over Ferry on White

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dettmer projects totaling $2.9 million were approved Wednesday by the state Highway Commission. A ferry which traverses the White River at the mouth of the Norfolk River was transferred to the commission after it was learned that the owner intended to close it.

A short stretch of a county road leading to the ferry from Arkansas 5 was also taken in by the commission. Businesses in Norfolk, a recreational area and a mail and school bus route are served by the ferry.

The commission also approved:

Construction of a roadside park and rest area on the east side of Arkansas 5, a mile south of Ellis in Baxter County.

Construction of an overpass on Arkansas 183 west of Fayette by the Aluminum Co. of America at no cost to the state.

An expenditure of $2,000 to the Mississippi River Parkway Commission as the commission's share of the development and promotion of Great River Road.

An expenditure of $8,000 for installation of automatic flashing signals at a railroad crossing on Arkansas 122 in New-ark (Independence County).

Operation of a free ferry at the site of Point Ferry near Jacksonport at an estimated cost of $45,000. The ferry would be located in Jackson and Independence counties.

Construction of an interchange at Lee's Creek near Van Buren on Arkansas 40 at a cost of $190,000.

Office Conference Best Way to Kill Time Before Lunch

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Every society has its rituals, and in the modern business office no ritual is more sacred than the staff conference.

Theoretically, a conference is held to solve problems or to consider new proposals to advance the firm. In fact, the conference at best is a way to pass the time between the morning coffee break and lunch; at its worst it serves as a torture session which enables the boss to torment his executives.

All conferences start in dramatic hopefulness. On the huge table before each seat is a shiny new memo pad and half a dozen freshly sharpened pencils.

The executives enter and greet each other as warily as professional boxers going into the ring. Who knows which will be carried hors de combat before the meeting is over?

If you have ever attended one of these office brain-drain sessions, you will find the following characters familiar:

The Eager Beaver—Inexperienced in office-jungle wiles, the junior executive leaps at the invitation of the boss to advance some new suggestions. He has half a dozen ready. But as he floats them up like toy balloons, the older executives sardonically shoot them down as if they were the site of Point Ferry near Jacksonport at an estimated cost of $45,000. The ferry would be located in Jackson and Independence counties.

The Treasurer—No matter what is suggested, he objects, "That'll cost too much." If he had his way, they'd throw out typewriters and go back to goose-quill pens because goose-quill pens are less expensive.

The doodler—He appears to be busy scribbling down notes on what the other executives say. What he is actually doing, however, is drawing pictures of glamorous girls—and adding long beards to their faces.

The Fugitive—By prearranged plan, he has his secretary enter and announce, "Detraitt's on the phone, sir. It sounds important." He makes his escape and doesn't return until he is sure the conference is about ready to break up.

The Neanderthal Man—The senior vice president has been with the organization since the days when businessmen wore tall beaver hats. To each proposed change he has the same rebuttal: "We tried that in 1908, and it didn't work. We tried it also in 1917 and 1929 and 1935 and 1953, and it didn't work. So why try it again now?"

The Cheerleader—Never having had an idea of his own, he tries to lighten the mood by telling a few jokes all have heard before. The other executives have a feeling that before long this guy's white brick ranch house in the suburbs will have a "for sale" sign on it.

Mr. Big Himself—After a dreary hour of fruitless hemming, hawing and buck passing, the boss says, "Well, it doesn't look like we're getting very far today. Same place, same time tomorrow. Maybe by then one of you zipperheads will be able to come up with something more constructive than excuses."

That's the only sure thing about office staff conferences: As in drinking, one just leads to another. They're habit forming.

Subversive Rioting Link Is Suspected

By JACK BELL

CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP)—While congressional committees prepared to probe rioting and violence, some 40 House members from both parties proposed today a $300-million program to help local police forces deal with civil disorder.

"The immediate need is for effective law enforcement," Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., chief sponsor of the proposal, said in a statement. He said meaningful attacks on the underlying social and economic causes of unrest can be undertaken only when law and order are restored and maintained.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., planned to introduce similar legislation in the Senate.

It would provide grants to organize, train and equip local law enforcement agencies to prevent or control rioting. The grants would pay 50 per cent or 75 per cent of the cost of the programs with the higher percentage applying if the state agreed to pay the rest.

An administration proposal to step up federal aid for strengthening law enforcement agencies is currently before the House Rules Committee and may come before the House as early as next week. It carries $50 million for the current year.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., announced that the House Banking Committee will meet informally Monday to consider possible emergency legislation to help restore small businesses and housing destroyed by the rioting.

And at least two congressional committees were planning public hearings next week related to the rioting.

The Senate Judiciary Committee expects to hold hearings on the House-passed bill to make it a federal crime to cross state lines to incite rioting. Officials from Newark and Cambridge, Md., both scenes of recent rioting, are to be among the witnesses.

The subversive-hunting House Committee on Un-American Activities, meanwhile, hopes to launch public hearings on the Newark and Detroit riots, thus beating to the punch a proposed House Senate probe.

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said the committee—best known for its often stormy investigations of alleged domestic communism—expects to meet next week to consider a preliminary staff report on supposed subversive influences in the riots.

Willis said he felt committee-men would agree with him "the information developed to date will justify public hearings."

Nuclear Test Underground

WASHINGTON (AP)—A nuclear test shot of low intermediate yield—equal to 20,000 to 200,000 tons of TNT—was set off underground today at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site, the AEC announced. It was the 16th weapons-related test announced this year. In addition there has been one Plowshare program test aimed at development of peaceful uses of nuclear energy.

U.S. Borrow to Hike Cost of Interest

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Department's plan to borrow $15 billion in new cash during the six-month period which ends in December is expected to boost interest rates.

It also could give a sense of urgency to President Johnson's proposal for a six per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes which thus far has gotten a cool reception in Congress.

One reason for the surcharge would be to hold down interest rates and help stem inflation. Some officials are convinced that without increased taxes the nation will suffer serious inflation late this year and early next year.

Treasury officials conceded Wednesday their plans for borrowing new money would represent an "obviously substantial demand" on the money market.

But Frederick L. Deming, undersecretary of the Treasury for monetary affairs, told a news conference the borrowing shouldn't have a tremendous impact on interest rates, which already have increased substantially in recent months.

He said the money market had anticipated an even higher figure.

The assessment of new cash needs, Deming said, was based on estimates of spending and tax receipts.

It indicated a slightly higher level of spending than Johnson proposed in his budget for the fiscal year which began July 1, and slightly lower tax collections as previously reported by Treasury officials.

The new money would supplement regular tax collections and would be designed to make ends meet.

greatly to be regretted." Unabashed by the furor he had caused, De Gaulle administered a final slap to Ottawa as he was flying back to Paris. He radioed a message of thanks for a "magnificent reception" to Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec and addressed him as "his excellency."

The title is reserved for the governor general, Roland Michener, who had invited De Gaulle and other heads of state to visit Canada during the nation's centennial celebration.

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle's abortive Canadian venture will put to a trying test the loyalties of his Cabinet and his issue-thin majority in the French National Assembly.

An accident of the calendar—it is vacation time in France—may save the 76-year-old president from an immediate political confrontation.

But it appears certain to come, not only as a result of his conduct in Canada but also because of other actions which have aroused public opinion.

De Gaulle was elected to a second seven-year term in 1955 and assembly elections which came every five years were held last March. Thus the Gauls face no major test at the polls in the immediate future.

But when the assembly goes back to work in early October, the sparks may begin to fly.

The Canadian crisis, which grew out of what appeared to be a deliberately charted effort by De Gaulle to boost French Canadian separatism, stunned opinion in France. But so far there has been no concerted riposte by De Gaulle's political opposition.

Evolution Decision Up to U.S. Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Attorney Eugene R. Warren said Wednesday he would begin immediately to appeal the Arkansas Supreme Court's decision upholding the state law prohibiting the teaching of the evolution theory in public schools.

Warren made the statement after the Supreme Court refused Wednesday to reconsider the decision it made last month upholding the law. Warren is the attorney for Mrs. Susan Epperson and the Arkansas Education Association. He said the appeal would go to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Mrs. Epperson filed a suit a year ago in which she contended that her freedom of speech was infringed upon by the 1928 law. Mrs. Epperson is a former science teacher at Little Rock Central High School.

Politics in Slow Detroit Troop Action

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Be-fore it could even be brought under control the Detroit riot was up to its neck in politics, looking straight at the 1968 presidential campaign.

It's a good guess we will be hearing about it until next year's elections.

Republican leaders, with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower approving, warned that anarchy is approaching and blamed President Johnson for failing to "recognize the problem."

This attack was made Monday while Johnson—on the request of Michigan Gov. George Romney, who may be Johnson's Republican rival in the 1968 race, was arranging to send U.S. troops into blazing Detroit.

The whole story of what happened Monday—and why Johnson took so long before permitting the troops to be used in the riot center—hasn't been told. It took many hours.

The New York Times reported that at first "some officials in Washington suspected that the governor was primarily seeking insurance against a political setback in the riots by quickly associating the President with his own law enforcement efforts."

But Johnson for his part, in his public explanation on the troop use to the nation around midnight Monday, repeatedly made it clear Romney couldn't control the riot and that the reason the troops were being sent was because Romney said he needed them and couldn't do without them.

Romney, who has spent a good deal of 1967 scouting around the country to sound out sentiment about his chances next year, seemed certain until this riot to try for the Republican nomination.

But Detroit was only the beginning of his trouble since riots subsequently swept one Michigan city after another.

All this will probably be used against him within his own party before nomination time comes. And if he gets the nomination, judging from the pains Johnson took to tell the country Romney couldn't make the grade with just one riot, the one in Detroit, the Democrats are a cinch to use it against him.

But the Republicans turned Detroit into a political football before Johnson had a chance to picture Romney as helpless. They issued their statement of condemnation against Johnson hours before he went on the air with his explanation.

In fact, they sought to blame the Democrats indirectly for the riots, saying "widespread rioting and violent civil disorder have grown to a national crisis since the present administration took office."

And at one point they declared, "We have tragic proof of the national nature of the crisis in the act of the President in sending in federal troops after one of our greatest cities has suffered incredible damage to the entire fabric of the community."

They didn't say a word about Romney's inability to handle the situation, even with the entire Michigan National Guard at his disposal.

And they wondered aloud how many more riots there must be before the President "will support or approve legislation to restore order and protect the people of this country."

But Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican Senate leader who sought to explain the party statement to reporters, ducked and ran when they began to quiz him about some of the charges.

All this started a shouting match in Congress where Democrats called the Republicans "irresponsible and ridiculous," urged them to act on proposals Johnson has already made for combatting crime, blamed some of them for voting against "every program of relief and rehabilitation for our cities," and even accused some of them of laughing at a riot-control bill.

So the American riots, which should require every bit of thought and energy of both sides, are drowned in politics before anyone suggests a solution.

Pope Returns From Visit to Turkey

By DENNIS F. REDMONT
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Back from what he depicted as a wearying but satisfying journey to Turkey, Pope Paul VI settled today into his summer vacation routine of rest and study.

The Pope was driven directly to his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, south of Rome, after debarking from the jetliner that brought him home from Turkey Wednesday night.

"We are a little tired," the 69-year-old pontiff told a crowd of greetters at Castel Gandolfo only a few hours after he trudged around the ancient Christian ruins of Ephesus, Turkey, in willing 100-degree heat.

The Pope said he would take "a few moments of rest," then "turn to the much, much, much work" still ahead of him.

He is expected to remain at his cool retreat five or six weeks. During that period he will finish preparation of a forthcoming document on reorganization of the Curia and of plans for the historic worldwide synod of Roman Catholic bishops to be held in Rome starting Sept. 29.

Also still before the Pope is the issue of birth control, the principal topic of study during his summer vacation last year. He has long postponed any declaration on whether the church will lift its antic contraception rule.

It was not excluded that the Pope might spend some of his vacation time contemplating a possible new trip. Returning on the Pope's jet from Turkey, Vatican aides commented on the pontiff's fifth journey abroad and said that he could be expected in the future to travel "just as often as he has in the past."

Looking back on the two-day Turkish trip, the Pope told the Castel Gandolfo crowd that God had blessed his meetings with officials of that Moslem nation and with Orthodox religious leaders, including Patriarch Athenagoras.

Predicting greater Christian unity advances, the Pope said the Orthodox leaders "showed themselves truly to be of such goodness and greatness of spirit as to let us foresee many other good things."

The Pope and Athenagoras both vowed to make personal sacrifices in setting an example for the flocks of their "sister churches," separated nine centuries ago by the great schism. The sources said Turkish government officials at least listened sympathetically to Pope Paul's plea that they mediate between Israelis and Arabs in the Middle East crisis.

Pope Paul ended his Turkish stay with the visit to the coastal city of Ephesus.
